Playa Blanca is a town in the municipality of Yaiza, Lanzarote, Canary Islands. It is one of the tourist areas of Lanzarote together with Costa Teguise and Puerto del Carmen.

It is located in the south of Lanzarote, opposite the island of Fuerteventura, in the so-called Bocaina Strait. Within walking distance are some of the most emblematic places on the island, including the Timanfaya National Park, the Natural Park of Los Volcanes, La Geria, the Salinas de Janubio, El Golfo (the green lagoon), Los Hervideros or the villages of Yaiza and Las Breñas, from the latter you can see a good panoramic view of Playa Blanca, with
